What is M.A.N.E?

The $MANE Token is a deflationary asset.
All marketing fees are channeled into buybacks and subsequent burns. Built on the ETH platform, its Tokenomics reinforce its deflationary mechanism, simultaneously rewarding holders with reflections.

What is M.A.N.E? M.A.N.E stands for:

- Marketing
- AMAS (Ask Me Anything sessions)
- News
- Engagement

Origins of $MANE:

$MANE was innovatively conceived by ScottCryptoWarrior (<https://twitter.com/ScottLEOWarrior>).

With a vision to create the paramount cryptocurrency hub on Telegram, $MANE is designed for both budding projects and cryptocurrency enthusiasts. Its main objective is to foster connections and amplify knowledge about the ever-evolving cryptocurrency landscape and the novel projects emerging within this dynamic sector.

Key highlight: Membership to our community doesn't necessitate owning tokens, ensuring the group remains freely accessible to all.

Why the $MANE Token?

The essence of the $MANE token is to introduce a robust deflationary mechanism tailored to cleanse the cryptocurrency space. It champions genuine projects, enabling them to present their innovations to earnest investors exasperated by the overwhelming scams and fraudulent schemes clouding the crypto space.

$MANE seeks to bridge sincere projects with astute investors, fostering a space where members can meticulously research before plunging into an investment.

The intrinsic value of the token is deeply rooted in its Tokenomics and aligns seamlessly with its core ethos-Marketing. As the project thrives and gains traction, its value augments. This is chiefly because of promotions and offerings like:

- AMAS (Ask Me Anything sessions)
- Pinned Posts
- Incorporation of Project Contracts to Buybot
- Giveaway Fees
- Twitter Spaces

Each initiative channels revenue into $MANE, facilitating the buyback of native tokens. Once bought back, these tokens are permanently obliterated from the supply, fortifying its deflationary nature.
